Members of Craft Attend Service at Union Church

The Annual Service in connection with Vulcan Lodge, No. 74, A. F. & A. M., was largely attended by the members and their friends.

The special music which was furnished by the combined choirs of the church was much appreciated by the brethren, the hymns and anthems being most suitable to the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Brunton, who preached the sermon, spoke at some length on the principles and tenets of masonry, which he said, united men of every country, sect and opinion. You have been taught to regard truth as the foundation of every virtue. To be good and true is the first lesson taught in masonry. On this theme we contemplate and by its dictates endeavour to regulate our lives and conduct. So long as we are influenced by this principle, hypocrisy and deceit are unknown among us. Sincerity and plain honest dealing should distinguish every free and accepted mason, and the heart and tongue unite in promoting each other's welfare and rejoicing in each other's happiness and prosperity.

The speaker drew many practical lessons from the life and work of the architect who was selected by King Solomon to draw out the plans and specifications and superintend the work of the first building erected to the worship of the almighty God, and closed by strongly urging upon the brethren not to forget the duty that they owe to the craft in general. Let us add to our faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge, to knowledge brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness, charity. Then we shall hand down something in our own generation to enrich the craft and mankind in general. Systems may change, customs may vary, and as we have been singing, crowns and thrones may perish, kingdoms rise, and wane, but if we keep in sight the ancient landmarks, and fix our eyes on the bright and morning star, and go on our way in the spread of virtue, truth and charity, rejoicing in the spread of peace and good will among men, looking forward to that better day when all men shall be united into the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of our Lord, the consummation of Tennyson's dream, the parliament of man and the federation of the world.

Mr. K. W. Brown, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff at Rosebud Creek, who has been spending his vacation here in town, returned to his home on Monday evening.

U. F. A. SUNDAY

Fine Addresses Were Features of Splendid Event

The services in connection with U.F.A. Sunday were well attended by all sections of the community, the church being well filled both morning and evening. After devotional services, the pastor expressed his delight with the good spirit existing between the different sections of the community, due in a large measure to the activities of the Community Club and the broad minded spirit of the Mayor.

Mayor Butchart, in a most timely address of welcome, spoke of the good relationship that has always existed between town and country and expressed the hope that this good relationship would continue to exist until we reach the goal of our dreams. The kindly feelings expressed by the Mayor were reciprocated by Mr. O. L. McPherson, M.L.A., president of the local association, who thought that Vulcan had set the pace for other communities in this regard. Mr. McPherson dealt at some length with the work of the U.F.A., showing how the fundamental principles of the association were in harmony with the social teachings of Jesus Christ.

Rev. Mr. Brunton paid a tribute of praise to the women of Alberta, who were the real pioneers in the work of social reconstruction. He believed that women as well as men have an interest in the church, the community and the Empire, as well as the duties of her own home. That the true woman was likely to be a better mother and a better trainer of men if she understood what the work of the man is to be.

No one can estimate the force and regenerating power of the Women's Institute. The farmer's home is the centre of his work, the head quarters of his operations. As some one has said, give me possession of the farmer's home and I will revolutionize his whole life and work.

The Women's Institute has a great mission to perform. They will do what farmers' conventions can never do. We can see signs that the rural school and the rural church may be enlarged and uplifted by the farmer's wife when the farmer himself has failed through indifference and neglect.

The Women's Institute is a comparatively new organization in this province, which is an attempt to bring women from the rural homes together for the purpose of discussing those matters relating to their own sphere of work.

Mr. Brunton dealt with the relationship between good farming and religion. He thought that poor farming was a serious menace to the community, more serious than many people realize; for the simple reason that poor farmers generally have poor land, so that there are good farming and poor farming communities. We all know that in a poor farming community the worn out land brings but poor returns, with little or no money to spend on good roads, good schools and good churches. The schools and the churches gradually become poorer until they cease to play any part in the moulding of the characters of the boys and girls of the community.

The problem of the country people, but the problem of the whole nation. Because the highest welfare of our people depends on the farming community. Other civilizations have perished through a movement to the city and the decadence of country life. He paid a compliment to the activities of the Community Club by providing a medium through which local merchants and local farmers can get together for mutual advantage. It has been felt that too little of the community business flows through local channels, with the result that great cities like Calgary and Winnipeg have been built up at the expense of the rural communities. If we are to save our small towns from further depletion and practical extinction a much larger percentage of the retail business of the community must be done at home, and this can be accomplished by the business man adopting up-to-date business methods and the farmer adopting a sympathetic attitude towards the merchant.

The community movement was established to meet the needs of a rural community. But we are finding that this get-together spirit is quite in evidence in the city. People everywhere are learning to think together, plan together, play together and worship together. The Community Club presents a splendid opportunity. If such a club were organized in every school district with a community council, it would provide a splendid medium for the development and enlightenment of public opinion. The people could thus inform themselves on the issues of the day, social, economic, industrial and religious, and the club would become a clearing house for all ideas relating to the new social order.

We in this country are confronting many pressing problems and the solution of these problems will wonderfully extend the sway of the gospel of Jesus Christ, both at home and abroad. Let us apply ourselves in the spirit of prayer and common sense to the task before us, and whether we succeed or not we shall at least have the satisfaction of knowing that we have done our best in a most difficult field.

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Brunton in a special sermon dealt with the wonderful faith and patience of the farmer. "There are people who say that the farmer is always grouching. The surprise is that they do not grouse more. They seem to be going on hoping against hope in spite of the long periods of drought, when some of their crops are languishing for want of rain. In spite of the long spells of wet weather, when the sunshine would mean everything to them. In spite of the heavy storms that beat down the grain just as it is coming to the harvest. In spite of hail, rust and frost, they seem to go on hoping against hope, and every year they give themselves to the same old venture, knowing that the same difficulties will meet them in the coming years.

He closed by expressing the hope that a rich and abundant harvest would come to reward them for their effort and justify their faith and confidence in God. The members of the choir who furnished the music were in excellent form and the anthems by the junior and senior choir were much appreciated by the large congregation.

TOWN COUNCIL

Meet as Court of Revision and Confirm Assessment

The Council of Vulcan met as a court of revision on Friday night. There was a full attendance of the members. There were only five appeals against assessment, and these were presented by the C. P. R., Imperial Oil Company, Bank of Hamilton, Vulcan Theatre, and Robert Layman. Slight adjustments were made in the case of the C.P.R., but assessment was sustained in all other cases. The total assessment of the town, which is made under the land or single tax system, is $116,520 land tax and $55,940 business tax, making a total of $172,460. The tax rate will be struck at next meeting of the Council.

Mrs. McKibbin, Mrs. Roebuck, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Goulter, of Blackie, motored to Vulcan on Friday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickinson. Mr. William Buchanan, High River, is spending a few days in Vulcan, the guest of Mr. Bob Simington.

LOCAL ITEMS

Inspector McMartin, of Winnipeg, was in town on Tuesday in his official capacity in connection with the Bank of Hamilton.

The Municipal District of Marquis will this year appoint only one weed inspector. This official is Robert Laing, of Queenstown.

Mr. George Rowe, of Vulcan, who has for some time been a patient in the hospital at Macleod, we are pleased to report, is recovering.

The Golden Rule Women's Institute will meet in Boyne schoolhouse, on Monday, July 3rd, at 2.30. Miss Lamman, of the Department of Agriculture, will deliver an address, subject, "Dressmaking Made Easy".

Our trees on the streets and in the yards of our attractive homes have of late made us proud, and now we have roses, pretty yellow roses in lovely bloom on the premises of Mr. Reeves. We are getting more like California every day.

The grasshopper dope is doing the business. Besides killing millions of the hoppers, every now and then an animal gets it and goes. Alvin Fulton is the loser of a couple of horses and a cow, and report has it that Les Middleton lost a horse or two.

The president of the Women's Institute and members of the sewing class wish to thank all those ladies who kindly loaned tables, sewing machines, oil stoves, etc., for the ten-day clothing course given in the Vulcan church, June 7 to 16.

You have seen the large and attractive posters for the Dominion Day celebration? We printed them right here in Vulcan, and we are pleased with our product. We are at your service for any and all kinds of printing.

Last week we did not have the information in reference to the return match at Stavelly between Stavelly and Vulcan, played on June 18. In the match Stavelly won by a score of 6% to 4% points. In the four ball matches Stavelly also won by 3% to 1.

Thomas Gilmore, aged 54 years, died at Red Deer on Thursday, June 22nd. Deceased is the father of A. E. Gilmore, of Vulcan, who went north last week, and attended the funeral at Calgary on Monday. Others of the family who survive are the widow and a daughter, both resident in Red Deer. Deceased resided in Calgary for many years, and has been a citizen of Red Deer but a short time. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

Miss Lamman, of the Olds Agricultural School, will give a lecture in the Union Church, on Friday, July 7. Her subject will be "Principles of Correct Dress." All members of the Institute are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends. Also on the same day Miss Davis, delegate to the convention at Calgary, will give her report. The meeting will start promptly at 2.30 o'clock.

The report of the U.F.A. Sunday services in this issue was prepared for publication last week, but owing to circumstances did not appear. The importance of the event merits even greater publicity than we can give, and we are pleased to perform our part in disseminating the fine ideals and sentiments presented in interesting addresses at the services.

The Advocate has just completed the printing of the list of special prizes for the Vulcan District School Fair. In the special list there are sixty-seven sections or competitions, and the prizes average better than two for each. This list covers sufficient for a school fair of more than ordinary size, but it is only an addition to the regular list. If we have a fair in proportion to the entire prize list it will be the best in the west, and the interest manifested indicates it will be just that. The date of the fair is Thursday, September 28.

The latest in baseball of local interest is the application of a Calgary team for a place in the Alberta Southern League. This application is from Lloyd Turner and is for a city amateur team under his management, and not the professional team of the disbanded Western League. It would be fine to have a Calgary team in our league, but the financing the trips for such a distance is the question that will determine the matter. There will be a league meeting this week to consider the whole matter. The league as it is now going good.

The "Maple Leaf" left here on Monday morning for Sylvan Lake, a trip that was calculated to take about twenty hours. The Maple Leaf is a boat, and will make this journey on wheels, having been loaded on a Ford truck and a trailer. This boat, which has been mentioned several times in these columns, has for some days been the object of much interest to many people who have looked her over while on skids in the yard opposite The Advocate. She is certainly a daisy and will take to the water like a duck on reaching Sylvan Lake, where she will be a delight to the hundreds who summer there. She was "made in Vulcan" and will make good anywhere.

LOCAL ITEMS

Patriotic Sunday will be observed in the Union Church, Sunday morning in commemoration of Federation. A special programme has been arranged in which the members of the Sunday school will take a prominent part. The boys and girls with their parents and friends are cordially invited. Special music by the junior choir.

Last week we made an error in R. Thomas & Co.'s advertisement. The ad read: "Sale open Friday, June 30th, closes July 1st." This should have been: "Opens Friday, June 23rd, and closes July 1st. This big sale finishes this Saturday, which means that you have only three days left for a chance at the big bargains to be had.

A meeting of the Girls' Club was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Clark on Tuesday, June 13. There were eleven members present. The girls spent a very enjoyable evening discussing the pleasures which they are looking forward to while camping this summer. The most important event of the evening was the delicious luncheon served by our hostess, Mrs. Clark.

A miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss U. Seaman was held at the home of Mrs. Terry on Thursday evening last. Twenty-five girl friends of the bride-to-be were present and their gifts were valuable, useful and pretty. It was a happy event, and the good wishes were splendidly presented. Music and supper were features of the affair.

One of the crew of the C.P.R. trackmen at Vulcan, named Nixon, was the victim of a painful accident. While at work with a pick on the section something caused the pick to glance and strike his foot, the sharp portion of the instrument penetrating the foot sufficiently to create a nasty wound. Dr. Wark took care of the case, and the patient has been sent to Lethbridge for hospital treatment.

Everything is set for the celebration. The world now knows of the big event, and Dominion Day in Vulcan will be a hummer. It will add interest to report that $25 has been added to the two prizes for the baseball games, and to witness the four teams of the Alberta Southern League in battle for the money will be one of the several big features. Everybody will be there if you are not missing.

Mr. George M. Smith was one of a company of three hundred Rhodes scholars present at a dinner at Oxford as guests of the Rhodes scholarship trust under the presidency of Lord Milner. Mr. Smith, of Alberta, supported the toast to the memory of Rhodes, speaking on behalf of Rhodes scholars. The Duke of Devonshire responded to the toast. Mr. Smith is a brother of Mrs. A. G. Spooner, and is known by many in Vulcan, having visited here last summer.

THE VULCAN ADVOCATE

VACATION

The High and Public schools will close on Friday of this week for the "long vacation" and the children will have their minds freed from their studies for about three months. Play-time is at hand and all will turn their minds to the lighter vein of living, will seek other points of interest for a time, and will return in good spirit to take up their work of studies again.

It should not, however, be the desire of children nor the wish of parents that this time be altogether spent in useless occupation. Relaxation from daily duties is not found only in play, so called, but may also be found in beneficial occupations which are helpful to the mind and body and are resultant in profitable undertakings. There are many little practical duties of household and business natures, which may be practiced at this time, and which will be found to be pleasurable as well as instructive and beneficial to the child and a help to parents. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is also true in the reverse, and the mind of the youngsters should not, at this time, be allowed to run free of some little responsibilities. It's the training age for children, and what is now developed in them, will emphasize itself in their older natures and will be displayed either as the cause of their success or failure. Parents should see to it that their children, while enjoying to the fullest the opportunities of the vacation time are also progressing in all those little good qualities which make up the future substantial man and woman.

AVOIDING ILLNESS

Although an elevator or a steam engine may be running well, although there may be no evidence of weakness, periodical examinations are made by competent inspectors with a view to detecting hidden defects which, if not attended to, may cause trouble. By the same token it appears that it would be a good thing if the delicate human organism were periodically inspected by physicians for signs of trouble.

This plan was advocated by Dr. Haven Emerson, of Columbia University, in an address before the Michigan Medical Association last week. He asserted that it would prevent many serious cases of sickness and possibly death. Most persons probably will be willing to agree that this is so, and yet at the same time will prefer to run the risk of sickness rather than submit to a medical examination when they feel perfectly well. It will take a long, patient campaign of education to induce the people to have themselves examined by a doctor two or three times a year, though it is becoming customary to have the teeth inspected at regular intervals.

Happily a start in the direction has been made in the medical inspection of school children. As the good results coming from this are recognized there will be more interest in the subject on the part of grown-ups. It may be that a generation hence the object at which the physicians are aiming will be attained, and there will be fewer cases of persons learning on being examined for life insurance that they have diseases of which they were, until then, unaware.

If old mother Eve could appear in New York society at this day, she would run a chance of being kicked out by the "400" for being over-dressed.

Orville Wright was being reproached for not taking up the challenge of the Smithsonian Institution that it was Langley, not the Wrights, who was the first to fly. A banker friend of Wright's said, "The trouble with you, Orville, is that you are too tactful. You should go in for more publicity. Assert yourself more." "My dear friend," Orville Wright replied, "the best talker and the worst flier among the birds is the parrot."

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

Saturday Night: In a recent issue of this journal, we endeavored to point out that the husband who smokes is likely to prove more amiable and domestic than he who refrains from tobacco—that the wife whose only rival is Nicotine will have a placid and home-staying partner. The "Christian Guardian," in its issue of June 7th, criticizes this mild assertion and would have it appear that we wish every husband to spend half his money over the bar and some of the rest in tobacco. During the regrettable absence through illness of the editor of the "Christian Guardian," the office boys appear to be economizing in accuracy. Now, the price of a smoke is a mere trifle, in comparison with that which is paid for the least of feminine blouses. Hence, the man who finds a woman objecting to his extravagance in the matter of tobacco would do well to look elsewhere for a domestic consoler, since "a woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke." It is to be regretted that the remembrance of an officer of the Methodist Church of Canada, who carried on efficiently the affairs of the Superannuation Fund for many years, does not mellow the reflections of the "Christian Guardian." There was no more genial and popular figure in the official group in the "Wesley Buildings" than the late Dr. W. S. Griffin, who, as Carlyle said of Tennyson, "smoked infinite tobacco," and who lived to nearly one hundred years of age. Such a dispenser of cheer and good-will is sadly needed in a world of Chadbands.

Christian Guardian: This country must be spending millions of dollars upon football, baseball, hockey, golf, cricket, and similar sports, and we see very few criticisms even of professional sport, because far and wide we recognize as we never did before the value of such sports to the nation. There was a time, a few years ago, when some of our thinking men who saw the necessity of hard work looked decidedly askance at the gathering of young men to play ball. But today scarcely a whisper is heard against any legitimate game, and our churches and schools generally are encouraging their young folks to play outdoor, and even indoor games. We are coming to recognize that the fiery energies of youth, with all their force and restlessness, must have a proper outlet if there is to be a desirable development of the physical, social, intellectual, and religious life. In army life with its peculiarly monotonous conditions and its real temptations, the cultivation of the play instincts was found to be one of the best safeguards against dissipation. And we are persuaded that in the games of today, although many of them played at considerable risk to the players, there is a very real help to the prevention of gross vice. Let the boys run, and jump, and skate, and swim, and do a thousand hazardous things, for none of these things is half as hazardous as would be unemployed leisure without the excitement and exercise of play. The man who sits at his books all day and night is leading an unnatural life, and unless he is careful to intersperse his study with judicious and sufficient exercise and play it is apt to go ill with him both in mind and body. It is folly to imagine that one can do the best mental work when we neglect the body. The body should be kept in the very best condition if we desire the mind to do its best, and the body for its best demands a legitimate amount of vigorous exercise and interesting play. It is true there may be seeming exceptions, but the ordinary man had better not reckon upon being an exception. One of the defects of our present school system is that while it recognizes somewhat the value of play, it still persists in the delusion that it is possible for healthy children to sit still for about five hours a day. It can't be done, and the sooner we recognize the folly of expecting it, the sooner will we provide more rational methods of dealing with young and growing children. An intermission, rightly used, is not so much time wasted, but so much time gained. Again, play will help to develop a more natural type of religion. It is hard for a torpid liver to be anything but pessimistic, and it is hard for a healthy young person to be anything but optimistic. Faith and joy seem usually to be somewhat intimately connected with fresh air and exercise. A good game makes religion seem more desirable. The religion of the open air, the religion of the fields and lakes and woods, the religion of the hard-contested ball-field and the hockey cushion, is less apt to be censorious, and critical, and peevish, than the religion which is wholly of the cloister. Both mentally and spiritually, men are better for keeping their muscles and lungs in vigorous working order. The Church is recognizing this and she is wise in so doing, and the religious life of the future will be all the healthier and saner and all the purer the more clearly we recognize that play has a legitimate place in that life.

Saturday Night: Hon. John Oliver, the picturesque Premier of British Columbia, when giving evidence before the special parliamentary committee on freight rates in Ottawa the other day, gave expression to a feeling which is becoming pronounced west of the Rockies. In what was probably a moment of exasperation he declared if his province failed to secure justice in freight rates and other matters, the severance of the bonds of confederation was quite possible. To quote his exact words: "No one will regret more than I if the situation which has sprung up should lead to a severance of British Columbia from Confederation or to a resort to brute-force. But that is the trend of the situation which it is my duty to lay before you. No man, of country or province can with self-respect submit to a continuance of a grievous wrong. If we are denied justice in this matter and compelled to pay extra rates for the use of the railroads for which we have contributed millions of acres of the lands of the province, we may have to resort to our provincial powers of taxation as a weapon of defence. We are in earnest in this matter. This committee has a chance to remedy this wrong and bring about such a condition as will unite Canada once more into a harmonious whole." The discrimination in freight rates by which British Columbia pays thirty-five per cent. more than the shippers in the prairie provinces is only one of the coast province's grievances. Another is the alleged excessive cost of fire insurance. According to the Employers' Association of Vancouver, the insurance companies have collected $8,000,000 excessive premiums in the past five years. The ratio of losses to premium for the past twelve years has been less than thirty per cent. The association claims that the enormous profit left over is being devoted to paying off eastern claims. Practically every insurance company is located outside of British Columbia. The prevailing bank interest on business loans on the coast is eight per cent., the highest in the Dominion, according to Vancouver sources. More than that the present restrictive policy of the banks is said to be crippling trade and industry in the coast cities. These are only three instances to show the growing feeling of antagonism in British Columbia against the rest of the Dominion.

CHAMPION STORM STORY

From Neepawa comes the champion "storm story." It runs like this: John McIntosh shut a young calf up in a shed and fastened the door on the outside. Next morning the farmer found the shed fastened exactly as he left it and the calf lying dead a short distance away. The only solution is that the wind heaved the shed up and blew the calf out, the building settling back into its old position.

A FIGHTING CHANCE

When a person is seriously ill, suffering from one of the many so-called diseases and apparently has about a fifty-fifty break to recover, he is said to have a FIGHTING CHANCE.

THE NEW DRUGLESS HEALTH SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC offers a FIGHTING CHANCE to every sick man, woman and child. It does not claim to be able to perform miracles, but it does positively locate the CAUSE of the majority of so-called diseases and by the means of CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS given with the bare hands only, relieves the Nerve Irritation, making it possible for Nature to heal full away.

HEALTH IS NATURAL—DISEASE IS UNNATURAL. Of course, it is best to take CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS at the very first sign of danger, but for several reasons you may not have been in a position to do this. You have been imbued with the idea handed down from generation to generation that when you were sick no one but a Medical Doctor could afford you relief.

BREAK AWAY FROM THAT FALLACY AT ONCE. Realize that no matter what your trouble may be, no matter how dependent you may be, CHIROPRACTIC OFFERS YOU A FIGHTING CHANCE.

Take advantage of that offer now. Let your CHIROPRACTOR make a Spinal Analysis and explain to you HOW and WHY His Science will help you. You then will emerge from the fight a WINNER and will be rewarded by possession of HEALTH and HAPPINESS.

NOTICE

The Drought Area Relief Act

The Drought Area Relief Act has been passed to enable persons residing in certain areas of Southern Alberta and their creditors to adjust their accounts, and to prevent the dissipation of the resources of needy residents by a multiplicity of action and other legal proceedings.

Any person who has been resident and actively engaged in farming operations in such drought area for at least one year prior to January 1st, 1922, and is still resident and engaged in farming can come within the provisions of the Act.

The duty of the Commissioner is to endeavor to adjust matters between residents in the said area and their creditors so as to provide for the satisfaction of just claims.

Any resident farmer within the drought relief area, or any creditor of such resident farmer, can apply to the Commissioner for an inquiry into and an adjustment of his affairs.

It is recommended that applications be forwarded at once, as if there is any delay the detail work necessary in the adjustment of each account cannot be completed in time after the crop is harvested.

Any resident farmer, or creditor, failing to make application before August 15th next does so at his own risk as it may not be possible to get the necessary help and complete enquiries after that date.

Applications for such relief, and to come under the provisions of the Act, should be made at once, in writing, to the Commissioner, Drought Area Relief Act, 320 Lougheed Building, Calgary, so that steps can be taken to make the necessary enquiry.

For further particulars apply to

E. J. FREAM,
Commissioner, Calgary.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

The convention of women's institutes held at Calgary was the most successful in the history of the organization. Over 300 delegates were in attendance. One of the chief speakers was Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of agriculture, who explained the new status of the women's institutes under the amendments passed last session, and who declared the intention of his department to continue to aid the institutes in extending their efforts. The government in the new amendments, had merely made provision for all women's societies to have an opportunity of having extension work. The department, while it no longer would pay the expenses of all delegates of the institutes to the annual convention, had this year paid the expenses of the advisory board and provincial convocations of committees. Mr. Hoadley said the advisory board would be consulted whenever changes in legislation affecting the institutes were in contemplation. Miss MacMillan, director of Extension Work, declared her desire to assist in furthering the work of the institutes and in assisting them as well as other women's societies in doing valuable community work. She said that her desire was to see the office of the extension service used as an information bureau for all women's societies, especially those in rural districts. A very interesting program of addresses was delivered during the convention.

NEW LABOR COMMISSIONER

Announcement has been made by Hon. Alex. Ross, Minister of Public Works and Labor, of the appointment of Walter Smitten, of Calgary, to be commissioner of labor for Alberta, under the act passed at last session creating a labor bureau. Mr. Smitten will assume his duties at once. His first duties will be to organize the bureau of labor. It is the object of the government to co-ordinate all labor legislation which will come under the jurisdiction of the new department. Mr. Smitten has been secretary of the Alberta federation of labor for a number of years, and is known as one of the best authorities in the province and in the dominion on labor matters. He has been a member of several boards of conciliation and was a member of the minimum wage board of the province.

CONDITIONS GROWING BETTER

Conditions in the world are not growing worse. They are growing better. Recovery from the effects of the war is progressing. The evils to be attacked are steadily becoming less important, and the very fact that they are being attacked is a great step toward correcting them. Political conditions the world over are growing perceptibly saner and sounder. Business is responding with greater activity. Confidence is justifiably increasing. The number of unemployed is diminishing in this country, at least, and probably in all others. Experience is teaching men the solution of their problems and false steps, when made, are producing less serious results than was the case last year and the year before that and the year before that.—Buffalo Express.

FREIGHT RATE REDUCTIONS

As announced from Ottawa, the special committee of the House of Commons on freight rates has decided upon the suspension of the Crow's Nest agreement for one year, and has agreed upon the offer of the railways for a reduction of rates on grain of about 20 per cent. and on other basic commodities of 16.66 per cent. Premier Greenfield and A. Chard, freight supervisor of the provincial government, who have returned from Ottawa after giving evidence before the special committee, believe that the decision will result in a considerable benefit to the farmers of the west, and express hope for a further reduction later on.

THE GRASSHOPPERS

Campaigns against the grasshopper are proving very effective in southern Alberta. The need of continued effort is emphasized, however, and also the necessity of economizing in bait where possible. It has come to the attention of the agricultural department that many are placing bait during the afternoon. This has been found to be a waste of bait. The proper time to place bait is generally between 6.30 and 9 in the morning. It has been found also that proportions of 2-3rd sawdust and 1-3 bran is having good results. It has also been found possible to cut down the amount of molasses to an amount not exceeding two quarts to every 100 lbs. of dry material, increasing the proportion of salt to 5 lbs. If these proportions are used in mixing bait, economy can be effected, and just as good results obtained.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Over 6,000,000 Ford cars are now running.

Dr. Walter Rathenau, minister of foreign affairs, and called "the wizard of the German Empire," was assassinated at Grunewald, a suburb of Berlin, on June 24.

The Hague Conference is now in sessions but little news of its doings have as yet reached print. Here's hoping that their considerations will be of practical benefit.

A new Canadian record for mature cows was made by Queen Beulah, a Holstein cow, owned by Dr. H. G. Clark, of Brockville, Ont., which in 305 days gave 967½ pounds of butter from 21,284 pounds of milk.

A complete dead lock has now arisen in connection with the coal miners' dispute in Alberta and south-eastern British Columbia, owing to the Western Canada Coal Operators association, flatly turning down the findings of the Knowles Conciliation Board.

The funeral of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson was held on Monday last with full military honors in St. Paul's cathedral, and the body was interred in the north transept beside the grave of Field Marshal Lord Roberts.

The prospects for the apple crop from New Brunswick orchards have never been better than they are at present, according to the provincial horticulturist. Generally, he stated, there is greater interest and activity in apple growing this season than has previously been evinced.

Recently Canadian refiners landed about 225 tons of sugar at Antwerp, Belgium, thus invading the home of the sugar-beet, and placing Canadian granulated cane sugar in direct competition with the sugar beet variety grown in that country. It is a matter of record that it compares quite satisfactorily.

In order to promote better trade relations, it is reported that the city of Lucerne, Switzerland, has invited Canada to establish a permanent exhibition of Canadian products in that city, offering for the purpose a fully equipped exhibition building. Canadian exports to Switzerland last year were valued at $8,500,000.

Addressing the parliamentary committee of the League of Nations, Sir Charles Gordon, one of the Canadian delegates, stated that in volume of imports and exports Canada stood fourth among the thirty-four nations represented. In volume of commerce per head of population Canada stands first, and in export trade third, being exceeded only by Great Britain and France.

Speaking in the Federal legislature Sir Lomer Gouin, ex-premier of the Province of Quebec, stated that England has invested in Canada two and a half billions of dollars and that the United States has invested nearly two billions of dollars. He further stated that some three billions of dollars were invested in Canadian manufactures.

The Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., has been experiencing an active demand for its product. The company has maintained an almost uniform production of more than 200 cars a day since December, 1921, the greater part of the time turning out 225 a day, while from December, 1920, to December, 1921, production averaged about 150 a day. The increase in the current fiscal year, it is estimated, will bring the output near 60,000 cars, as against 46,832 for the preceding fiscal year, and 55,616 for the year ending July 31, 1920.

A trans-Canada highway from Halifax to Vancouver is stated to be the object of the Canadian Automobile Association by Dr. P. T. Doolittle, president of the organization. The first and immediate aim of the Association, Dr. Doolittle stated, will be the decision of a route between Winnipeg and Vancouver. Later will follow the planning of the route east from Winnipeg.

During the past month sixteen families from Ukraina, Russia, have settled in the Okanagan Valley. These people have been living in Manitoba for some time and are expecting three hundred more of their countrymen to join them in British Columbia, where each family is to be apportioned forty acres of land and to be allowed twenty-five cents an hour for cleaning their property.

A disgraceful fracas occurred at Herrin, Ill., when a number of miners of the Southern Illinois Coal Co. were massacred by a mob on June 23. That work was that of the strikers in endeavoring to humiliate and stop the work of the non-union miners. From ten to forty-four are the reports of the number killed.

Portage La Prairie was the center of a terrific storm on June 23, which occasioned heavy losses to churches, hotels and other buildings. The C.P.R. tracks were washed away, telegraphic communications between the east and west was cut off. The storm was quite general through Manitoba and two million dollars worth of damage was done. Portage La Prairie looked as if it had been dynamited. Many people were killed.

CURRENT HUMOR

Once there was a conductor who was not satisfied with his wages, and left. The next day while looking for a job he happened to step on the third rail. Did he get killed? No. He was a non-conductor.—Science and Invention Magazine.

ASSURE HAY SUPPLY

If there is a feed shortage in Southern Alberta this winter there will be little or no relief from the north. The hay crop there is going to be pretty much a failure owing to dry weather. There will be no hay for export from Northern Alberta.

It is estimated that 200,000 acres of rye have been grown in Southern Alberta. Half this, at least, should be cut for feed. Hay is going to be worth money, and the fore-handed farmer is the one who makes sure that he has a supply of feed to carry his stock through. If he has some surplus to sell he will be that much better off, and he may reasonably count on a pretty fair price for it.

The advice of Deputy Minister Craig on this matter should be followed by the farmers of this district.

Merchants Must Build "Backfire"

The forest ranger and the prairie farmer have learned that they must fight with fire. They know that when the all consuming forest or prairie fires are sweeping toward them their only hope of safety lies in the "back fire." By kindling and carefully controlling a fire of their own they force the bigger fire to burn itself out, finding no further fuel on which to feed.

The merchants of the small cities and towns are learning that in waging their fight for existence they must adopt the tactics of the men of the West. The great mail order houses of the cities are the consuming flames which threaten to wipe out the retail merchants of the small towns unless the latter, realizing their danger, take steps to remove the menace.

Advertising is the weapon with which the mail order houses conduct their warfare on the retail merchants of the small cities and towns. The mail order houses do their advertising through their own catalogues and through certain publications which are known as mail order advertising mediums. A big mail order house spends hundreds of thousands of dollars merely on the preparation and publication of its bulky catalogues.

Business built upon advertising. The catalogue houses also spend thousands upon thousands of dollars in advertising in the mail order publications which look for their circulation to the people of the small towns and the rural districts. Advertising in some of these mediums costs as much as from $40 to $85 for a single inch, yet the mail order houses find it profitable to pay these high rates. Their business is built upon advertising and if they were denied the use of the mails for their advertising for a single month their business would be destroyed.

In advertising the local merchants find the only weapon with which they can beat the mail order houses at their own game. This does not mean necessarily only newspaper advertising, although that is the big gun in the battery employed by the successful merchant in his battle for trade. Advertising is a big word and it covers a big field. There is no longer to be found the man who does not believe in advertising. Every merchant believes in advertising.

of some sort. The placing of a display in a show window is advertising. The only difference between that kind of advertising and advertising in a newspaper is that where the one reaches dozens the other reaches hundreds. Attractive window displays are, of course, an important adjunct of any retail store. They serve their purpose but this purpose is only to attract the attention of those who may be passing by the store. There are other forms of advertising, such as personal solicitation, but printed matter must always continue to be the chief reliance of merchants in attracting customers to their stores.

ADVERTISING BEGETS CONFIDENCE

The buying public has learned that the store which takes the people into its confidence through its advertising is the one in which it may expect to get the best bargains and the most satisfactory treatment. It knows that the store which advertises consistently and regularly has the best and most up-to-date stocks because this store sells its goods more rapidly than the one which does not advertise, and, therefore, is not forced to carry over old stock from one season to another. The public knows that the store which advertises can place lower prices on its goods because it turns over its stock oftener than the store which does not advertise and therefore does not have its capital tied up in slow-moving merchandise.

The mail order house does not get its business by merely letting the public know that it has dry goods or hardware or groceries or some other commodity to sell. It creates a demand for its goods by placing in its catalogue attractive pictures and detailed descriptions of the articles which it has to sell. The lure of the mail order catalogue lies in the fact that the merits, or alleged merits, of the merchandise offered are placed before the prospective purchaser in the most graphic manner. The local retail merchant has the same opportunity to do this that the mail order house has and can do it much more effectively than the mail order house can. The retail merchant can talk to the people of his community through his home newspaper and that is something which the mail order houses as a rule cannot do, for the local newspaper through a sense of loyalty to their communities and their home merchants will not accept the advertising with which the mail order houses would flood them if they had the opportunity.

GIRLS' CONVENTION

Notable Event Reported by Vulcan Representative

The Convention of the Girls' Club opened on Friday morning, June 16. There were about thirty members of the Girls' Clubs present and also several members of the Women's Institute. Miss Minnie Page, provincial president, was the presiding officer. "O Canada" was sung, after which the secretary's report of the convention of the previous year was read. Miss Hunter gave the girls a hearty welcome. She welcomed us first as strangers to the city, then as visitors of the Institute, and then just as girls. We were made to feel very important as we were told that we, the girls, were the most important people of today. A reply was then made to this address of welcome. The president then talked to the girls, telling them that she agreed with Miss Hunter when she said we were very important, and that she thought we should realize this, and do our best towards our home and country. The reports of the branch clubs were read, and ways of improving the clubs were discussed.

Friday afternoon several more reports were read, which were very interesting. Miss Jean Ramsay, of Calgary, gave a lecture and demonstration of "Physical Culture for Girls."

Friday evening an entertainment was given by the girls of the Calgary C. G. I. T. and every one spent a very enjoyable evening.

Saturday morning the report for the Vulcan Girls' Club was read by Hazel Layman. Although the girls of the other clubs have been very busy, there were not any who had been busier, nor had done more during the last year. The Vulcan report was mentioned in the Calgary Herald as one of the three best.

Mrs. Kirby gave a very interesting address. In speaking of the books of today and the books of the nineteenth century, Mrs. Kirby said the latter used to end by saying, "They got married and lived happily ever afterwards" (bosh). Today they end by saying, "She stood with head erect, shoulders back, body tense, and cried, 'I will, I tell you I will, and no one shall stop me, and seizing the scissors she bobbed off her hair, while her mother stood by and wept."

Saturday afternoon the officers for the following year were elected. Miss Minnie Page, of Elmore, was re-elected for president, Miss Blanche Cox, of Elberton, was elected as vice-president, and Mrs. Clara Johnston, of Alliance, as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Marie Chalmers, of Water Hole was elected as director for district No. 1; Miss Kathleen Ross, of Olds, as director for district No. 2; Miss Hazel Layman, of Vulcan, director for district No. 4; the director for district No. 3 to be chosen from the Westlock Club. During the afternoon a reading was given by Miss Hazel Layman, and Mrs. Harry Forrester sang two solos which were greatly appreciated.

Miss Evelyn Stony, provincial girls' work secretary, gave a very interesting talk to the girls. She spoke of the way we should treat our mothers, and should not criticize her grammar and manner of dress. We should not treat our brothers merely as conveniences, but should remember that they have pride as well as we.

There were three resolutions passed, which were as follows: First, a vote of thanks was moved to the W.I., the Provincial Girls' Work Board, Miss Innis, Mr. Edwards and others who had assisted in the programme for the Convention.

Second: In view of the fact that the departmental examinations, held in June interfere with a great many delegates attending the convention, it was resolved that henceforth, the convention be not held on, or between the dates of June the first and thirtieth.

Third: Resolution was that the W.I. Girls' Club have a provincial fund to be raised by the annual levy at the rate of 50 cents per member. It was further resolved that this sum be raised by what ever means each club may decide, and that the quota be reckoned at the time of the annual meeting, and the amount sent to the secretary-treasurer.

Miss Jessie MacMillan, director of extension work, has offered to donate a picture as first prize for the club sending in the most interesting reports for the following year. Mrs. Price of Calgary, complained that the reports were too stiff and could not be used.

WALTER HAGEN

Of Detroit, Wins English Open Golf Title at Sandwich, on June 23

Walter Hagen, the American professional golf star, won the British open championship. The final scores of the three Americans were:

Hagen, 300; Barnes, 301; Hutchison, 302. Barnes' score for the last round was 72.

J. H. Taylor's fourth round score was 76, for an aggregate of 303, or one stroke more than Hutchison, the third American.

George Duncan, the veteran British golfer, made an aggregate of 301, putting him in a tie with Jim Barnes. Deadly approach shots and particularly few pitch and run shots featured Hagen's brilliant fourth round. His putting, too, was exceptionally good.

Be sure your match is out. Pinch it before you throw it away.

BASEBALL LEAGUE

Vulcan Defeated in Close Game at Stavely

It took ten innings and one bad decision to defeat Vulcan at Stavely on Wednesday last. In the words of the Stavely Advertiser, "the lowly Vulcanites played like champions, and with an early lead of four runs looked unbeatable." It was a great game, the best our boys have played this season, and to lose it as they did was the big regret. Vulcan was ahead when Stavely went in for the last half of the ninth. Two men were down when a runner on third made for home. He was clearly thrown out at the plate, in the judgment of our boys and of many of the spectators, but the umpire called it safe. The Stavely paper says, "It was a close decision at the plate at that." Stavely scored the winning run in their half of the tenth, the score being five to four. It was unfortunate that an incident of the kind should have happened just when our boys were working like a real ball team and deserved to win, for they going strong, giving real support to Willard Love, who always pitches good ball. However, this will not make them quit, and from this on all the teams in the league may expect a busy time with Vulcan.

KIRKCALDY NEWS

The Institute meeting at Kirkcaldy on Thursday, June 22, took the form of an entertainment to the Golden Rule and was the result of a quilting contest in which the losers had to entertain the winners. There was a good attendance of both members and visitors. The number for the above mentioned quilt, was drawn by little Ruth Peterson. The lucky number was 99 and was held by Mrs. D. C. Jones of Vulcan. Some good numbers were given on the program. Mrs. Arthur Minard sang, which was a treat as her songs always are. Miss Toll, teacher of Fireguard school gave some readings, which were excellent and enjoyed by all. Others who took part in the program were: Agnes Neal, Mesdames Clements, Mallory, Roebuck, Todd, Fox, Boose, Voisey and Kennedy.

The next meeting is a special meeting to be held at the church and will be a talk and demonstration on "Dressmaking Made Easy", by Miss Lammirmann. This to be at 2.30 Tuesday, July 4.

The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alf. Roebuck on July 13.

Mrs. Cameron of Milwaukee is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Minard.

Mrs. Bessie Todd narrowly escaped a serious accident on Sunday when the pony she was riding fell, throwing her to the ground. She was bruised, but not badly hurt.

Little Viola Bowie was taken to Calgary recently, where she had an operation for appendicitis. Her many friends are glad to know that she is doing fine and will be able to come home this week.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mr. E. S. Lane had the misfortune to step on a spike-nail, while getting over a fence last Friday. The nail penetrated the shoe, and foot to the bone, causing intense suffering. Under the skilful treatment of Dr. Carson, Ed is slowly improving; he is still confined to bed, but is awfully cranky, so we have hopes. He never reads these items so it's all right.

Mr. J. L. Kehr and Mr. R. Parslow were Calgary visitors last week. They motored home together on Friday.

Alvie Fulton's host of friends are sorry to know he lost two valuable horses and a fine cow, a week ago. In some unaccountable way they got the door of a building open, where hopper dope was stored. Another horse was saved by Dr. Hughes, who made a thorough study of this sort of poisoning in anticipation of trouble. Alvie is optimistic enough to think "It might have been worse" and to invest in a new "fliver" a few days later. That's the spirit that "moves the world along."

The W.I. will meet on July 6 (Thursday) instead of Wednesday the 5th, when a government lecturer will be present and speak on "correct dress". The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robt. Love.

There is much disappointment expressed on account of not having the short course in dressmaking. We could not have it on the date they offered to come, on account of school, as we were to have it in the Red Cross school during holidays. This proved such a popular course that it was impossible to fill all applications.

The Redlandview Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Clayton, Wednesday last. Mrs. E. S. Lane acted as hostess. The delegates from the convention, Mrs. W. G. Peterson and Mrs. M. C. Dunham gave very comprehensive reports which were listened to with much interest. There is nothing like attending a convention to fill one with enthusiasm. There was a large number present at the meeting, including two new members, Mrs. Wm. Hays and Mrs. Henderson. The latter is a bride lately arrived from the "Old Country." And the former is an "old timer" well and favorably known in the community. A pleasant incident, arranged by Mrs. Clayton, was the meeting of Mrs. Hays and another old-timer, Mrs. Eamor, sr. These two ladies came into this country on the same day (seventeen years ago, if we are not mistaken), and have not met for a long time. A short program was enjoyed after the reports, including a song by little Ruth Peterson, recitation by Evelyn Peterson, piano solo, Gordon Clayton; duet by Gordon and Arthur Clayton, and two piano selections by Mrs. Henderson. Ruth's song was "Too Cute for Anything". Gordon and Artie played remarkably well for taking lessons so short a time; and Mrs. Henderson's music was delightful.

Mrs. Wm. McMullen and baby girl was a visitor at the Institute meeting, also Mrs. F. LeBow and Mrs. J. Dewie from Vulcan. Mrs. D. L. Doane acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. J. McCrae. The first meeting Mrs. McCrae has missed since taking the books.

Mrs. M. Stager returned from Calgary on Wednesday, just in time to attend the Institute meeting. Mrs. Stager can always be depended upon. She has not missed a single meeting yet! If I am not mistaken.

DUNLOP CORD TIRES FABRIC

Q "There's something in the Quality of Dunlop Tires that's missing from other tires. Don't know what it is, but when I make that quick stop I know instantly I have Dunlop Tires on!"

Q One motorist thus spoke for himself. He really was speaking for thousands of car owners.

Q Live Rubber and Best Egyptian Cotton go into Dunlop Cords and Fabrics. No shoddy, no skimping. The day of the short-mileage tire is gone; the day of the high-mileage tire is here; and when "tire-mileage" is up for discussion now, you find the word "remarkable" generally precedes a reference to DUNLOP.

A USEFUL CLOCK

Alarm clock attachments for doing odd jobs are well known. But if the thing is feasible on a small scale it can be equally used to bestow all the comforts of a home upon bachelors and lazy married folk who cannot afford a cook but who like to have breakfast ready for them, steaming hot, as soon as they finish dressing in the morning.

Thus reasoned Walter Smith, of Philadelphia, who has perfected a machine that sounds an alarm, lights a fire under a pot of water, and pours the water into a pot containing tea or coffee when it reaches the boiling point. Then the alarm is sounded for the second time. The inventor is now working on an attachment to boil eggs, which he asserts is a simple matter.

The contrivance looks something like an old-fashioned clock. The alarm clock is set in the top of the box. When the alarm goes off it pulls a cord that releases a weight. This drops in such a way as to strike a match just over a shallow pan containing cotton soaked with alcohol. It also strikes a spring that turns on the gas, which is ignited by the usual electric spark.

The pot containing the waiting water is balanced delicately over the alcohol. When the water boils and rises in the pot the centre of gravity is shifted, and the pot tilts forward, permitting the water to run into the pot containing the tea or coffee. A tripper device drops a snuffer over the burning alcohol as the pot tilts, extinguishing the flame. Then, as the pot is emptied and swings back into place it strikes another switch tripper that operates the alarm for the second time, this time by electricity furnished by the dry cell.

WHY SHOULD I ADVERTISE?

A press agent, travelling ahead of a circus, called on the owner of a general store, the only merchant in a little town.

"Brother," he said "when the show gets in town we'll have the usual parade. And I want to rent you advertising space during the parade."

"Whereabouts?" the storekeeper asked.

On the elephant. He's the greatest thing in the procession. I'll paint your name on each side of the elephant and there we'll be a man, woman or child for miles around who won't see your ad."

"There's not one of 'em don't know me already," replied the merchant, "and, what's more, they all trade here. Why should I advertise? I don't need it."

The circus man reflected. He looked across the street and felt stumped. He looked up the street and decided that he was stumped. Then he looked down the street as far as the church. Then he turned to the storekeeper.

"Nice church down there," he said.

"How long has that been there?"

"Forty years, I guess," said the merchant. "Most everybody around here is a member."

"That church has been there forty years," said the circus man "and most everybody in town belongs; and yet they ring the bell every Sunday morning."

$1,000,000,000 FOR SODAS

The American soda fountain will collect a tribute this year of about $1,000,000,000 which makes the money spent for luxuries seem trifling by comparison. The soda habit has been growing steadily for years, and prohibition has served to leave it practically without a rival.

There are more than 100,000 soda fountains in operation throughout the United States. They have become a national institution. The number and variety of drinks and foods served across soda counters have rapidly increased in the last few months, and during the coming season will be still further expanded. The taste of the American public in soft drinks and lighter foods is being studied the country over. The average patron doubtless will be interested in a glimpse, so to speak, behind the fountain, where so much of his money is spent.

The appeal of the soda fountain is attributed by some to the fact that the public, deprived of alcohol, naturally craves sugar in some form. A great variety of sweet drinks and dishes, which appeal both to the palate and the eye, were contrived to meet this demand. Even in hot weather the thirst-quenching drinks, such as old-fashioned lemonade, are not popular. It was predicted before prohibition that a variety of drinks would be devised for men to take the place of alcohol, but these have not endured.

To the surprise of soda water purveyors the greatest demand has been for ice cream or drinks and dishes in which it is an ingredient. New Yorkers probably are the greatest consumers of ice cream per capita in the world, for the annual supply is about 300,000,000 gallons.

The American public is fond of a complicated drink, which will appeal to the eye, and is willing to pay for it. The drink with fruits, nuts and other decorations at fancy prices is becoming ever more popular. A surprising variety of novelties in drinks and sweets is constantly served at the fountains. The profit for the inventor of any novelty which strikes the public taste is likely to be fabulous. The greatest success ever scored by one of these novelties has been that of the small brick ice cream coated with chocolate. So great has been the consumption that the price of cocoa beans, used in the material for coating the bars, has risen 50 per cent. The countries supplying this product have had a boom in foreign trade, and their exchange rates have improved. So important has the soda fountain become that it affects the supply of many other food products.

The gilded barrooms of pre-Volstead days would appear plain and dull in comparison with many modern soda fountains. A fountain with a room for serving drinks has been opened in Fifth Avenue upon which $400,000 was spent in decorations. The services of one of the best known architects in the country was engaged in designing it.

There are elaborate soda rooms throughout the country. It is uncommon for fountains to be installed at a cost which represents an interest of $25 a day. Designs are standardized so that small towns may boast of soda rooms exactly like those of Fifth Avenue.

A campaign is under way to introduce American soda fountains and soft drinks abroad, especially in England. Fountains have been exported from the United States, and the American soda drink is becoming familiar to the English. The industry has made a greater advance in the last year than in any previous period. The most serious rival of the American soft drink is the English cup of tea. The tea habit is centuries old and difficult to combat. There also is a prejudice in England against the iced drink. Even in the hottest weather the English prefer hot tea to a cooling drink. Although the French are fond of sipping tepid water colored with syrup flavors, they do not take kindly to the American soft drink of much lower temperature.

CIGARETTES

"According to the Finance Minister, every man, woman and child in Canada averages about 700 cigarettes a year. Considering that there are millions in the country who smoke none at all, some person must be burning them at a good rate to keep up the average."—Exchange.

That cigarette smoking is so popular is a pity, for it is much the most injurious form of smoking. This is so for the reason—one sure reason if no other—that the amount of tobacco consumed in a cigarette is much greater than is commonly realized. For instance, to furnish sufficient tobacco to fill an average-sized pipe, how many cigarettes would be needed? Asked such a question, the average smoker will reply, "Oh, three or four." As a matter of fact, the tobacco in one cigarette will fill a pipe two-thirds full—or, to put it another way, the tobacco in one and a half cigarettes will load a pipe. If you doubt it, try it.

Thus the person who smokes a dozen cigarettes a day—and most cigarette-smokers do more than that—is smoking the equivalent of eight pipe-fulls of tobacco.

The cigarette smoker who would drop the cigarette in favor of the pipe would do himself a good turn.

This moonshine goes to the head because that is where those people who drink it have the most room for it.

Present rate on grain, Calgary to Fort William, is 36 cents. Crow's Nest Pass contract would reduce it to 26 cents. Railway companies offer a new rate of 30 cents. In brief, every farmer in the Calgary area is asked to pay 4 cents a bushel more for the sake of the poor old east, which already has better freight rates than the west, owing to water competition. That is the proposal in a nutshell.
